Brief Introduction about Oracle Cloud HCM / Oracle Fusion HCM:

Oracle Fusion HCM is a comprehensive cloud-based human capital management (HCM) platform that provides organizations with a wide range of tools and capabilities to manage and optimize their human resources. The Oracle Fusion HCM course content covers a number of key modules, including Functional Setup Manager, Core HR, Payroll, Performance Management, Talent Management, Goal Management, Absence Management, and Oracle Time & Labour.

The Functional Setup Manager module allows users to configure and customize the Oracle Fusion HCM system to meet their specific business needs. This module covers topics such as defining security policies, and setting up user roles and permissions.

The Core HR module provides essential HR functionality, such as managing employee records, tracking employee benefits and deductions, and managing employee data. This module covers topics such as employee self-service, employee recruitment, and employee termination.

The Payroll module provides tools for managing employee pay and benefits, such as calculating pay checks, tracking time and attendance, and managing taxes and deductions. This module covers topics such as payroll processing, payroll reporting, and payroll compliance.

The Performance Management module provides tools for evaluating and managing employee performance, such as setting performance goals, conducting performance reviews, and providing feedback and coaching. This module covers topics such as performance planning, performance assessment, and performance development.

The Talent Management module provides tools for attracting, developing, and retaining top talent, such as identifying and recruiting top performers, providing training and development opportunities, and recognizing and rewarding employee achievements. This module covers topics such as talent acquisition, talent development, and talent retention.

The Goal Management module provides tools for setting and tracking employee goals, such as defining key performance indicators, setting targets and benchmarks, and monitoring goal progress. This module covers topics such as goal planning, goal alignment, and goal achievement.

The Absence Management module provides tools for tracking and managing employee absences, such as recording time off requests, managing leave balances, and reporting on absence trends. This module covers topics such as absence policies, absence reporting, and absence compliance.

The Oracle Time & Labour module provides tools for managing employee time and attendance, such as tracking hours worked, recording leave and absence time, and calculating pay rates. This module covers topics such as time tracking, time reporting, and time management.

Oracle Cloud Compensation is a module within the Oracle Cloud Human Capital Management (HCM) system that allows organizations to manage and automate their employee compensation processes. With this module, organizations can streamline the process of setting, tracking, and adjusting employee pay, including base salary, bonuses, and other forms of compensation. The module also provides tools for managing and analysing employee compensation data, helping organizations make informed decisions about pay and benefit strategies.

Oracle HCM Communicate is a communication tool within the Oracle Human Capital Management (HCM) system that allows organizations to send targeted messages, alerts, and notifications to employees, managers, and other stakeholders. It allows users to create and schedule communication campaigns, customize content based on employee demographics or job roles, and track the effectiveness of the communication. It is designed to improve communication and collaboration within an organization and help keep employees informed and engaged.

Overall, the Oracle Fusion HCM course content provides a thorough introduction to the capabilities and functionality of the Oracle Fusion HCM platform, and equips students with the skills and knowledge to effectively use and manage the system in real-world settings.
